THE LEDGER!

Our temperance friends will be delighted to learn, no doubt, that the new Democratic Tariff reduces the duty on brandy to $1.50 per gallon. Under the McKinley Law it was $2.50.

It is to be hoped that The Bulletin's readers will at once proceed to lay in some of those $40 suits of clothes which can be bought now for $30 according to the Free-trade Editor's advertisement.

On the basis of last year's importations, the Democratic Tariff reduces the duties on laces and embroideries $1,537,890. This will be good news to the laboring men who work on our city streets for $1.25 a day, whose wives and daughters wear $40-a-yard laces. Besides, it will help them to pay the extra price which the new Tariff puts on their sugar.

The eminent philosopher of The Bulletin is continually comparing prices and things of this year with prices and things of last year. Sonny, last year was the first year of the Democratic panic. Why don't you compare prices and things of this year with prices and things of the year before last year? That was the last year of Republican prosperity.

The Democracy of Pennsylvania is in a state of ferment because WILLIAM M. SINGERLY of The Philadelphia Record, the candidate for Governor, has declared that the state fight is a fizzle, and that the Philadelphia Democrats have sold out the party. Keep your eye on Pennsylvania, gentlemen; this is a bad year for Democrats in that state—and in every other state.

REVIEWING trade for the past week R. G. DUN & Co. say plenty of material for encouragement and also for discouragement can be found by those who seek that and nothing else. But business men who want to see the situation exactly as it is, find accounts so conflicting that it is difficult to strike a balance. In the aggregate business is about a tenth larger than last year, but still falls about 25 per cent. below a full volume for the season.

A FEW days ago The Bulletin, which is energetic and enterprising only when it comes to finding mares' nests, printed the following, with gorgeous headlines, in its editorial column:

DOWN COME THE PRICES.
Suits That Cost $46 Under the McKinley Tariff Are Now Offered at $35.

The following is taken from a circular issued by one of the large importing and tailoring firms of Cincinnati and speaks for itself:
Dear Sir: Now that the Tariff Bill is settled, and business in general has assumed a more prosperous condition, the good effects of which are already felt, we kindly call your attention to the fact that in order to convince your friends that you are enjoying this prosperity one must not neglect personal appearance. "It is the barometer of success." In the anticipation of a prosperous season our importations have been larger than usual, and our stock, which is now complete, sparkles with beautiful and pleasing effects. * * *

We have purchased a large assortment of English suitings of one of the most renowned manufacturers, which in the past we have sold for $45. We will quote this line for this season at the uniform price of $35 to our patrons.

This is a saving of $10, nearly 25 per cent., on a suit, under the Democratic Tariff.

The Bulletin would have its readers believe that the millennium has come—a belief that is completely dissipated by the following letter from the largest importing house in its line in the United States, E. H. VAN INGEN & Co., New York. They say:

"Messrs. Hechinger & Co., Maysville—Dear Sirs: The new Tariff Bill reads as follows: 'The reduction of the rates of duty herein provided for manufactures of wool shall take effect January 1st, 1895.' Consequently the prices of woolen goods will not be affected during this present autumn season."

"Under the old law, which will remain in force until next January, the duty is 50 per cent. ad valorem and 44 cents per pound weight."

"Under the new law the duty will be 50 per cent. ad valorem. The reduction of duty, therefore, is 44 cents per pound weight."

"The average weight of double-width spring woollens for men's wear is sixteen ounces, and the reduced cost will be 44 cents. The average weight of double-width fall woollens for men's wear is twenty-four ounces, and the reduced cost will be 66 cents."

"In a general way, therefore, after January 1st next, our double-width foreign spring goods of about sixteen ounces weight will be sold at say 50 cents per yard less than now, and double-width foreign fall goods of about twenty-four ounces weight at 75 cents per yard less. Lighter weight goods will have less reduction and heavier weights will have more."

"American goods, having been already somewhat reduced in the last spring and the present fall seasons, will therefore not generally be subject to as much reduction as the foreign goods."

"Foreign wool will be admitted free at once, but it will take several months to produce goods from such wool, and therefore there can be no reduction in foreign or domestic goods during the present season. Yours truly,
"E. H. VAN INGEN & Co."

POLITICAL mathematicians put Lewis county down for 750 majority for Judge PUGH.

Buy American Goods Only!

If every patriotic American will purchase American goods only for his consumption he will lessen the disastrous effects of the Free-trade Gorman Tariff Bill. THE LEDGER invites all to join in such a movement, and to sign the following pledge:

I hereby pledge myself to buy American goods only, whether of the farm, mine or factory, and to use my influence to have others do the same.

APPOMATTOX.
Storm of Disapproval Over the Name of the Post Office.
The Citizens of the Historic Village Wanted the Name "Surrender."

But Now It Is the Unanimous Opinion of Ex-Confederates That the New Name Is Intended to Disgrace the People of Virginia and the South.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—The storm of disapproval occasioned by the naming of the old Appomattox post office "Surrender" has placed the post office officials on the offensive. When the postmaster general approved of the change of name he saw nothing wrong in the new designation of the historical spot, but now that the unanimous opinion of ex-confederates has been expressed that the new name is intended to disgrace the people of Virginia and the south, it is realized that some one else had better be held responsible. Assistant Postmaster General Maxwell Monday sent for the papers in this far corner case and they told the story.

In July last the postmaster at Appomattox, William Rosser, a relative of the famous ex-confederate cavalry general, forwarded the recommendation of leading citizens with a letter in his own hand. He said that as the county seat had been moved on account of fire from Appomattox to Nebraska, about three miles away, the name of "Nebraska" being changed at the same time to "Appomattox," it would be necessary to give a new name to the old office.

The letter explained that as Lee's surrender had taken place at Appomattox, it was Rosser's judgment and that of the citizens of the place that the name of "Surrender" would be appropriate. The recommendation was endorsed by Henry St. George Tucker, the democratic member of congress from the district, and another paper recommending the change in the name of "Appomattox," in Appomattox county, to "Appomattox," it was likewise endorsed by Mr. Tucker.

In the course of official routine, when the case was reached the approval of the department was stamped upon the recommendation of the postmaster and member of congress and the announcement publicly made of the change of names. While the department can claim complete exemption from responsibility in suggesting a name which the Virginia papers consider as an outrage to southern sentiment, it can not be divorced from the responsibility which attaches to the execrable taste which put such a name in the postal bulletin.

In response to appeals and protests of the press of Virginia and the entire south, Postmaster General Bissell will make haste to select a more suitable designation for the burnt-out office of Appomattox. So far as the department is officially informed, not the slightest objection has been received. There is not a protest by mail, nor has there appeared any visitor from Virginia to object to the use of the word "Surrender" as applied to the spot where the confederacy died.

A Six-Year-Old Burglar.

AKRON, O., Sept. 25.—Samuel, six-year-old son of Carpenter John Stern, has been arrested on a charge of burglary. He confesses to stealing property amounting to $500 in value. In the early evening he broke the back windows of stores, taking what he liked. He was caught in Colorado's harness store Sunday night. He is too young to send to the reformatory, and the court is unable to decide how he shall be punished.

Injunction Against a Boycott.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., Sept. 25.—Judge Billings Monday afternoon granted the permanent injunction asked by James C. Dedrick, publisher of the East Liverpool Daily Crisis, against the Trades and Labor union and the Typographical union, to restrain the bodies from pursuing the boycott against the paper which has been on for the past two months. Dedrick also asked for $2,000 damages.

Tragic Incident at Toledo.

TOLEDO, O., Sept. 25.—Council No. 4, of A. P. A., famed for the Winchester rifle episode, was to meet Monday night, but was prevented by a sensational occurrence. J. P. Peebles, one of its officers, came into the hall shortly before the meeting was to open, and, saluting those present, instantly dropped dead as the words "Good evening" left his lips. Heart disease was the cause.

Robbed a School Marm.

HARVEYSBURG, O., Sept. 25.—When Miss Lydia McCoy returned from Lebanon Monday she found that some light-fingered party had relieved her of her reticule, which contained $28 in money and two promissory notes which called for $100. The lady is one of the most popular teachers of Warren county and the loss is a heavy one to her.

Big Ohio Furnace to Start Up.

CHAUCESBY, O., Sept. 25.—The new Floodwood furnace which has remained idle for years, and which once cost $500,000, will be put in operation as soon as necessary repairs can be made. The structure is backed by a strong company of New York capitalists, who will repair and equip the furnace with the most improved smelting appliances.

Food Adulterators Arrested.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 25.—Deputy Food Commissioners Sterrett and Sells have returned from Sandusky, where they made wholesale arrests of dealers in adulterated wines not properly labeled. Of twenty-three arrests sixteen pleaded guilty, the aggregate fines amounting to $1,300, none of the dealers getting less than $100.

Ohio State University.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 25.—Members of the faculty of Ohio state university are agitating the plan of erecting homes for the professors on the campus, the instructors to pay ground rent. The matter will be presented to the trustees.

FEDERATION OF EMPLOYES
Under Discussion at Baltimore, and Believed It Will Occur.
BALTIMORE, Sept. 24.—Monday forenoon a grand street parade was participated in by the grand lodge of trainmen and representatives of five kindred organizations. In the afternoon representatives of the trainmen, brotherhoods of locomotive engineers and firemen, orders of railway conductors and telegraphers and of the Switchmen's Mutual Aid association met in secret session and discussed various questions relative to betterment of the condition of railway employees. Grand Master Wilkinson, of the trainmen; Delos Everett, third vice grand engineer; Alvord Brown, second vice grand master of the trainmen, and others spoke.

As given out after adjournment the remarks strongly criticized Debs and the A. R. U. The speakers, while approving a general affiliation of the bodies represented, were not hopeful of a consummation of the plan because of the conflicting interests. It was the general opinion of those present, however, that some action by the six bodies will be taken, and that ultimately the federation will be formed. Many of the representatives expressed the opinion that if formed the federation would oppose the A. R. U., but would invite individual members of that body to join the new organization.

ROMANTIC WEDDING.
A Couple Meet Unexpectedly, and Hymen Does the Rest.

THOMASVILLE, Ga., Sept. 25.—A romantic wedding attended the visit of Secretary Hoke Smith to this city.

An excursion train came to Thomasville from Waycross, and among the passengers was Mr. T. P. Milner, a contractor, who lives at Valdosta. Another excursion train came from Troy, Ala., and among the passengers was Miss George Parker, of Ozark, Ala. These two young people had been deeply attached to each other, but the young lady's family objected.

Now, neither of the couple knew the other was coming to the rally at Thomasville. But they met, and it didn't take them long to decide that it was "now or never." A marriage license was secured, a minister summoned, and a private but very happy wedding occurred in the parlors of the Stewart house late in the afternoon.

Mr. Milner took his bride with him to Valdosta when the excursion train returned, leaving a note for her friends who had accompanied her from Ozark, and sending a telegram to her father. The bride is a daughter of Judge J. W. Parker, ordinary of Dale county, Ala., and belongs to one of the best families in the state.

TALMAGE'S TABERNACLE.

An Aged Admirer of the Doctor Has a Plan For Rebuilding It.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—U. P. Stanton, a septuagenarian admirer of Rev. Dr. Talmage, has conceived a brand new plan for providing funds for the erection of a new Brooklyn tabernacle, and the trustees have promised to give it a careful consideration.

He proposes an issue of $1,000 and $100 bonds, noninterest bearing, and payable in twenty years. Each bond is to be made valuable by a picture of the tabernacle and of Dr. Talmage and his autograph.

Mr. Stanton thinks that $300,000 could easily be raised in this manner, and that very few bonds would ever be presented for payment, owing to their values as souvenirs.

President Leonard Moody, of the board of Trustees, said that, in his opinion, the scheme was an excellent one, and would probably be submitted to the congregation.

Family Poisoned.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 25.—Mrs. Anne Osborne, a widow, living at No. 114 North Second street, and five other persons, members of her household, were poisoned mysteriously Monday morning by coffee. It is not known how the deadly substance got into the beverage. Mrs. Osborne, Miss Mattie and Willie Osborne and Mr. Hunt are expected to die. Two others who drank sparingly are out of danger.

Lynchers Refused Bail.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 25.—Judge Cooper, of the criminal court, Monday morning refused bail to Mike Strickfaden, one of the thirteen men in jail, charged with the lynching of six Negro prisoners near Millington on August 31. Two of the other parties accused were granted bail, John Rice in $5,000, and Ed Armour in $7,000.

Cold-Blooded Murder.

SELMA, Ala., Sept. 25.—Louis Williams walked out of a drug store, drew his pistol and without uttering a word shot Mr. Lewis. The unfortunate had lived just twenty minutes. There is no cause known. Williams claims the shooting was accidental, but eye witnesses pronounce it cold-blooded murder.

Brazilian Rebels.

MONTEVIDEO, Sept. 25.—The rebels in Brazil, according to reports received here, have made a further advance. Matto Grosso, it is said, will soon be in open revolt. The San Mateo garrison deserted to the rebels after killing the officers.

Ate Toadstools.

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—Thomas Flunohel, a Bohemian aged 35 years, his wife and 12-year-old son, were poisoned by eating supposed mushrooms which they found in the woods Sunday. Monday morning the son died. Both parents will die.

Impersonating an Officer.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—Chief Hazen, of the secret service, Monday received a telegram announcing the arrest at Clinton, Mo., of J. B. McCullough, charged with impersonating the chief of the secret service.
